

Media & Communications Coordinator
Circa $80K Plus Super

The role will see a creative and professional Public Relations/ Communications specialist with prior experience in a similar role encompassing media, public relations and stakeholder management. Leading a team of 3 staff, within council's Marketing Department, the role encompasses implementing and overseeing the internal and external communications and plans as well as responding to media/press releases on any management or communication issues.

This position offers a rewarding opportunity for communications and public relations specialists with crisis-management skills, decision-making ability and commitment to action. Critical to your success will be your negotiation skills, outstanding communication skills, relationship management skills as well as media and public relations management.

In return for your dedication, Frankston City provides a supportive and stimulating environment along with a passionate and dedicated team.

Position descriptions are available at www.frankston.vic.gov.au

Employer of Choice