

An online marketplace for the Circular Economy

ASPIRE is giving businesses a new way to solve their issues with waste

We've pioneered innovation software to create an online marketplace that trades waste as a resource

It's a matching service designed for businesses to exchange resources that would otherwise be discarded

One businesses trash is another businesses treasure

ASPIRE was developed in response to requests by small manufactures in Melbourne's South East, to their local councils, to offset the increasing cost of disposal of waste resources to landfill.

ASPIRE has transitioned into commercial operations in 2019 with the endorsement of CSIRO/Data61 and are currently in the process of expanding the program across local, national and international networks under a new entity (Advisory System for Process Innovation and Resource Exchange PTY LTD)

ASPIRE currently works with councils Australia wide and a number of corporations to give them a new way to solve their waste issues

ASPIRE has helped hundreds of businesses unlock cost savings, resolve issues surrounding waste and reuse resources destined for landfill. For many businesses, ASPIRE's matching platform provides the tool to truly 'walk the talk' as sustainable enterprises

Moving our economy from linear to circular shifts the focus from high consumption and high waste, to simply doing more with less.

- ▶ Save costs
- ▶ Minimise demand of resources
- ▶ Lower carbon emissions
- ▶ Reduce landfill and pollution

To find ways to keep using things, rather than using them up. To keep materials and products in use and treat waste as a resource: This will help
